'No TV Programmed' configuration - MPI/MTI

Use the 'No TV Programmed' configuration with Commercial TVs which support MPI/MTI*. In this scenario, a proper MPI/MTI cable must be connected between the STB and the Commercial TV, and the TV must be configured for MPI/MTI mode. The STB will then control the TV power, volume +/-, and mute functions (Mode = 1 or 2), and optionally the TV input function (Mode = 2 only) via MPI/MTI.

In this configuration, the Settings/Input key on the remote can be optionally configured to provide either the STB Settings behavior (Mode = 1) or the TV Input behavior (Mode = 2). In Mode = 2, the STB will receive the STB Input Keycode when the Settings/Input key is pressed and will then send a TV Input command to the TV via MPI/MTI.

*Note: MPI/MTI compatibility, cable type, and TV configuration vary by TV manufacturer and model. Desired operation should be verified prior to installation.

Programming TV code

When MPI/MTI is not used, the remote may be programmed with a TV code so that it will control the TV power, volume +/-, and mute functions and optionally the TV Input function by sending TV Keycodes for these keys. In this scenario, Mode = 1 should be used and there must be no MPI/MTI cable installed. A TV code may be programmed into the remote using either the Auto Search or Direct Code Setup procedures. Once a TV Code is programmed into the remote, additional steps are needed to set the Volume +/- and Mute control, and optionally the TV Input control.
